FRISCO WHEAT FIRM ASSIGNS.

EPPINGER & CO. FORCED TO SUSPEND ON 'CHANGE.

One of the Largest Houses on the Partie Coast-Losses in the Big Four Speculation Six Months Ago Caused Suspension-Western Market Surprised.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6 .- The failure to-day of Eppinger & Co., the largest grain dealing firm in California and one of the largest in the country, made a great stir in the wheat market. The liabilities of the firm are more than $1,250,000 and the assets about $200,000. A dozen California banks will share $500,000 loss.

The failure is the most far-reaching crash in the California grain trade since William Dresbach was forced to the walt eight years ago, when it was found that had been trying to corner the wheat market of the world with Senator Fair's

Although there had been whisperings of trouble with Eppinger & Co., none of the brokers was prepared for the announcement made at the morning session on

After the grain dealers had assembled the formal statement was made that the firm was insolvent. Then came an exciting scene. It was known that the firm was short on a large amount of December wheat and the outcome of the announcement in the face of this condition at once brought about market activity.

Creditors of Eppinger & Co. began buying against the amount short for the account of the suspended firm, with the result that December wheat quickly rose from $1.32 at the opening to $1.341/2. After the great bulk of pressing commacts had been filled the market weakened and the price declined to $1.3?34.

The failure grew out of the dissolution of the Big Four wheat combine six months ago. This combine included Eppinger & Co., G. W McNear, Balfour Guthrie & Co. and Garvin & Eyre. Six months ago Big Four was caught heavily long on ships, chartered at highest prices last year, and short on wheat, which had been sold as low as $1.05 and which rose to $1.60.

The combine got a severe squeezing, and it was reported in grain circles that the losses amounted to $3,000,000, incurred in covering the enormous short lines. this loss Eppinger & Co. were forced to stand their share or $750,000.

The final crash was precipitated by the London, Paris and American Bank, which within the last two days made peremptory and heavy demands on Eppinger & Co. The obligations were pressing and the firm could not meet them.

Among the principal creditors are the London, Paris and American Bank, the San Francisco Savings Union, the Nevada National Bank, the Anglo-California Bank, the International Bank, the American Bank, the Comptoir (French bank), all of San Francisco; London and San Francisco Bank, Isaac Cohen, capitalist; San Francisco Bank of Colusa, Colusa; Bank of Monterey, Monterey; Bank of Woodland, Woodland; Bank of Yolo, Woodland.

The alumni parade took place this afternoon. Dressed in all sorts of fancy costumes and headed by brass bands, the graduates marched through the streets to the baseball field, singing and cheering. The men of one class were dressed as sailors and wheeled a big cannon along with them, which they fired off every few minutes, and another, the class of '99, had a sacred bird, which they carried on a standard and to which they made obeisance.

The bird was a stuffed crane which had served a useful career in the university museum. It had a neck which could be stretched and a duck's head and wore

VACANCIES IN GENERAL STAFF. TROUBLE IN 14TH REGIMENT. Older Officers of the Army Say That Gen.

Corbin Should Be Selected. WASHINGTON, June 6 .- Much interest has been aroused among officers of the army on duty in Washington in regard to the proposed selection of two general officers of the army to fill the remaining vacancies in the General Staff. All the minor selections were made some time ago and announced at the War Department, and it has been asserted officially that Gen. S. B. M. Young will succeed to the rank of Lieutenant-General upon the retirement in August of Gen. Miles, and will then be made

This left two vacancies to be filled from This left two vacancies to be lined from the list of general officers, and the most prominent candidates mentioned have been Gen. Tasker H. Major-General of the army and that the appointment of Gen. Carter, who has not been a general officer a year yet, would be a serious reflection upon the Adjutant-General of the Army.

Gen. Carter has been on duty in the War Department since 1897, and he applied to Secretary Root for duty in the Philippines because he believed he should take a tour of field service. He greatly assisted the Secretary of War in the preparation of the recent army reorganization laws, and also took an active part in the preparation of the new General Staff scheme. It is for this reason that it is thought he should be appointed to the General Staff, so that the army may have the benefit of his services until it is put in thorough operation. until it is put in thorough operation.

Answer Charges Against Him. WASHINGTON, June 6 .- Major Howze, now in command of the Porto Rico regiment, may go to the Philippines to assist personally in the investigation of the charges made against him by Major George K Hunter in regard to thealleged cruel treatment of natives during the northern Luzon campaign of 1900.

New York is in the rhythmical grasp of a new tune. The march, with its combination of Sousa and syncopation heard CHARGES AGAINST COL. KLINE in every theatre and restaurant, from musicians of all nationalities, and whistled musicians of all nationalities, and whistled night and day on the sidewalks, is the tune of the summer with a vengeance. No recent year has produced anything so pervading and evidently so irresistible. The Saturday parade gave the final stamp of official recognition to the new air. At one point on Fifth avenue eight bands parsed in succession playing it. It died away in one direction to spring up in another. This is only the beginning of summer, but the new tune already threatens to develop into a missance. The Complainant Lieut. Griffin, Whose Fine Was Remitted by Gov. > Greek servants have never been considered as a means of reducing the difficulties of the great domestic problem in New York. But there is already an intelligence office devoted exclusively to placing them. Not all go into private houses. Quite a number are waiters, some are cooks in restaurants and others are valets. But there is also a large number of men and women among the clients of this office who go into the kind of service now almost monomolized kind of service now almost monopolized by workers of Irish and Swedish origin. The office has been in existence only a short time, and the number of Greek servants employed in the city is comparatively small; but they have managed to make themselves liked and are in demand.

The increase in driving has been great in the past ten years, and Central Park contains many more equipages now than the mere growth in the size of the city could have been expected to produce. The great pros-perity that has prevailed in the last few to New York from other cities have all had entry of his attendance at the armory one night. Now, the evidence which was laid before the Governor and which caused the remission of the fine showed that Col. Kline himself was not present in the armory on April 21, 1902, the night when Major Garcia and Lieut. Griffin had their trouble.

"Major Garcia testified at the courtmartial that Col. Kline was in the armory that night, and Capt. Anderson recorded on the headquarters book that Col. Kline was present. We have the tracing of a page of the registry in Powers's Hotel, Rochester, showing that Col. Kline was in the hotel there that night.

"Now, if Lieut. Griffin was guilty of making a false entry (which he was not), what to New York from other claes have all had their share in making the number of vehicles so much larger.

The most surprising change in the appearance of Central Park comes, however, from the recent popularity of the West Drive. A decade ago it was deserted, save "Now, if Lieut. Griffin was guilty of making a false entry (which he was not), what shall we say of these three officers who thus juggled with the attendance of Col. Kline? For it must be borne in mine that the regimental adjutant's record book had to be approved by the Colonel. And there is no evidence that Col. Kline ever tried to set right the entry of his attendance."

It was said by friends of the three officers vesterday that they were prepared for the few drivers of road horses who used it on their way to the trotting places further uptown. The west side of the park is much more beautiful than the fashionable East Drive, which has always enjoyed the vogue that came from its proximity to Fifth avenue, and there has been a reversion of feel-ning in recent years which has turned the tide of pleasure travel. Now the West Drive is almost as crowded on these bright ficers yesterday that they were prepared to make a vigorous defence against any action Lieut. Griffin might take and we're prepared to show that their conduct in relation to the Lieutenant had always been The sophisticated children of to-day are as well informed on hygienic questions as on many others.
